ADD-ON COURSE APPLIED NURSING ETHICS

Placement: II year B.Sc Nursing

Hours of instruction : 30 hrs

Preamble

The last two decades have brought about many changes in health care settings. Health care professionals and students face new challenges and need to respond ethically as patient participation is increased in health care decision making. This course will help the student/staff to supply themselves with knowledge and skill in advocacy, thus to protect the patient's rights. An add on course will also help them to get a better placement in India and abroad as there is a growing need for additional certification to practice in competent settings.

Scope and need

Nurses can work in various health care settings; act as patient advocate in decision making. Nurses need ethical guidance to confront these challenges created by increasing need and decreasing financial resources. This course is needed to equip the students with knowledge in ethics of clinical practice and protect the rights of the patients in various settings.
